M. A. Silva Corks, USA Featured at Bush Presidential Library Exposition

Santa Rosa, California (October 5, 2009) -- M. A. Silva Corks, USA (masilva.com) has been selected by the George Bush Presidential Library Foundation to represent the wine cork industry in the much-anticipated The Culture of Wine exposition. The event will unravel the mystery, magic and making of wine. The exhibit runs September 28, 2009 through August 22, 2010 in the Ansary Gallery of American History at the George Bush Presidential Library and Museum in College Station, Texas.

The Culture of Wine exhibit creates an opportunity for visitors to learn about the historical, viticultural and production aspects of wine. Visitors begin by stepping through the exhibit's vineyards, then proceeding to the crushing, pressing, fermenting, barrel storage and bottling displays. The show's blending of equipment, photo murals, process diagrams, and comprehensive descriptions is not only fascinating, but also delivers an in-depth learning experience.

As a leading sponsor, M. A. Silva Corks, USA collaborated on the creation of the natural cork display area that educates visitors on sustainable forestry practices, traditional hand harvesting techniques, and ecologically sound corkwood processing. Maps, diagrams and hands-on displays add interest and interaction. A highlight of the display is the array of M. A. Silva's premium natural cork products.
